Notes from your Steering Group Le mot de votre conseil directeur

Because of the Victoria Day holiday in Ontario the May Membership Meeting was moved to May 12 and there was a good turnout. Vianney Leduc opened the Meeting with helpful suggestions on what participants should bring to the intermediate workshop on deadwood scheduled for May 24th.

Vianney announced that the June Membership Meeting would also be the OBS's Annual General Meeting and reassured Members that the AGM is usually brief. Members were encouraged to nominate persons or volunteer to stand for office themselves. There is lots of talent out there and many hands make light work!

Members in attendance were advised that two trees styled at 2007/2008 winter/spring OBS meetings were to be raffled.

Vianney started the evening program with a timely presentation on fertilizing bonsai. The discussion was quite lively and wide ranging but fortunately Vianney had a handy tip sheet for Members to take home for future reference.

The second part of the program consisted of three activities in parallel. The swap shop was better than some years partly because of many nice pots courtesy of Irene Franklin, interesting plants courtesy of Ian McRea and some Members brought trees just for discussion.

While shoppers were negotiating, advice was dispensed at a clinic by senior Members for those needing help.

And the raffle: first choice of two nice junipers was won by John Gummesson and the second, by Jennifer Jackson Fevens.

This Meeting seemed to have something for everyone.

Japan on the Hill

Yvon Bernier received a call from Parliament of Canada International and Inter-parliamentary Affairs requesting assistance from OBS. The Canada-Japan Inter-parliamentary Group was preparing for Japan on the Hill celebrations to be held at the Centre Block on Parliament Hill, on May 14, 2008. They asked if we could provide bonsai to decorate the venue. Because of the 80th anniversary this year of diplomatic relations between Canada and Japan, Japan on the Hill celebrations were more elaborate.

Yvon, Vianney Leduc and I managed to locate fifteen attractive bonsai compositions which was not an easy task, as many trees were still dormant. The bigger challenge was the logistics of getting the bonsai to a room in the Centre block and back home without incident and this was managed with the very competent assistance of government staff.

The Ohara School of Ikebana provided floral arrangements for the dinner tables and the Embassy of Japan provided miniature kimono displays. His Excellency Tsuneo Nishida, ambassador of Japan to Canada was the keynote speaker.

The overall effect was splendid and OBS's contribution was well appreciated. From a public relations point of view, I am pleased to report that the OBS made a good impression on both the Canadian government and the Embassy of Japan personnel.

Deadwood workshop and pictures!

Seven Members and three observers participated in the 'hands on' afternoon workshop on May 24. The emphasis of the workshop was intended to be on creation of deadwood rather than styling and although most Members brought their own trees, sometimes the original styling plan had not made adequate provision for deadwood – a very valuable lesson.

The workshop was small enough that Brian Donnelly was able to give individual attention to the deadwood treatment for each composition at the start of the workshop, so we all got off on the right foot.

Brian made sure there was enough time for all participants to get the feel of bursting and stripping bark on new growth, enhancing the appearance of age with heat, sculpting manually and with mechanical tools and in some cases heavy-duty carving with his 'Makita'.

Several of us remarked that the series of articles by Francois Jeker now had more relevance. Brian left us with our trees a big step closer to show quality and with a new enthusiasm for deadwood in our bonsai compositions.
